ACT OF INCORPORATION

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That Andrew D. White, of Ithaca, in the State of New York; George Bancroft, of Washington, in the District of Columbia; Justin Winsor, of Cambridge, in the State of Massachusetts; William F. Poole, of Chicago, in the State of Illinois; Herbert B. Adams, of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland; Clarence W. Bowen, of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, their associates and successors, are hereby created, in the District of Columbia, a body corporate and politic by the name of the American Historical Association, for the promotion of historical studies, the collection and preservation of historical manuscripts, and for kindred purposes in the interest of American history and of history in America. Said association is authorized to hold real and personal estate in the District of Columbia so far as may be necessary to its lawful ends to an amount not exceeding $500,000, to adopt a constitution, and make bylaws not inconsistent with law. Said association shall have its principal office at Washington, in the District of Columbia, and may hold its annual meetings in such places as the said incorporators shall determine. Said association shall report annually to the Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution concerning its proceedings and the condition of historical study in America. Said Secretary shall communicate to Congress the whole of such report, or such portions thereof as he shall see fit. The Regents of the Smithsonian Institution are authorized to permit said association to deposit its collections, manuscripts, books, pamphlets, and other material for history in the Smithsonian Institution or in the National Museum at their discretion, upon such conditions and under such rules as they shall prescribe.

Approved, January 4, 1889.

PREFACE

For explanations concerning this volume the reader may be referred to the preface of its predecessors. Briefly, the volume is intended to include all books and articles, however brief, which contain anything of value to the history of the United States and Canada. As to other portions of America, while it aims to include all writings on their history published in the United States, or Europe, it does not include what the lands to the southward have published in their own history.

This volume has been prepared at the Library of Congress. For the facilities which have been granted there, thanks are gratefully rendered to Dr. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress; to Mr. Martin A. Roberts, superintendent of the reading room; and to other members of the staff of the Library.

The preparation of the manuscript, as distinguished from the printing and publication, has been sustained by a group of subscribers consisting of various historical societies and individuals, the present list being the following: The American Historical Association, American Catholic Historical Association, American Philosophical Society, Bowdoin College Library, William L. Clements Library, Colonial Society of Massachusetts, Dartmouth College Library, Duke University Library, Illinois State Historical Society, State Historical Society of Iowa, Massachusetts Historical Society, Minnesota Historical Society, Missouri Historical Society, Newberry Library, New York Historical Society, Historical Society of Pennsylvania, State Historical Society of Wisconsin, Prof. Julian P. Bretz, Mr. Clarence S. Brigham, Dr. Max Farrand, Mr. Albert Matthews.

The work of compilation has been done under the direction of Dr. J. Franklin Jameson.

A cumulative index covering the volumes for the years 1906-1930, inclusive, is now in process of compilation by Mr. David M. Matteson, to be published under the auspices of the American Historical Association.

Colonial Period to 1763

General

Andrews, Charles McLean. The colonial period of American history. New Haven: Yale univ. press; London: H. Milford, Oxford univ. press. 2 v. [572]

The author has "approached the subject from the English end, from the land whence the colonies came and of which they were always legally a part". This point of view shows that, "interesting and important as the colonies are in their individual traits and peculiarities and in their relations to the later history of the United States their standing as colonies and not as independent states is the fact of greatest significance to the scholar—the key to the whole colonial situation."

The West Indian colonies and Newfoundland and Nova Scotia are included. Rev. in: Am. hist. rev., XL (1935) 347–350; Eng. hist. rev., L (1935) 738–739; Eng. quar., VII (1934) 729–732.

GENEALOGY

General

The handbook of American genealogy. Edited by Frederick Adams Virkus, . . . v. II. Chicago: The Institute of American genealogy. 462 p. [2159]

Vol. I, pub. in 1932.

Includes a section "Who's who in genealogy".

[Jacobus, Donald Lines]. Errors in genealogical books. AM. GENEALOGIST AND NEW HAVEN GENEAL. MAG., X, 129-133. [2160]

Points out the type of errors sometimes found in "good" genealogical books, and cites as examples data from "The history of Woodstock" by Clarence Winthrop Bowen, and "Families of old Fairfield" by the writer.

Jacobus, Donald Lines. Interpreting genealogical records. AM. GENEALOGIST AND NEW HAVEN GENEAL. MAG., XI, 9-11. [2161]

Moore, Vivian Lyon. Genealogical records without which there would be no D. A. R. D. A. R. MAG., LXVIII, 35-36. [2162]

D. A. R. genealogical activities and accomplishments.

Totten, John Reynolds. Editorial iconoclastiana. N. Y. GENEAL. AND BIOG. REC., LXV, 12-30, 122-131. [2163]

Discusses the necessity for accurate documentary references in genealogical publications, and shows how erroneous dicta creep in and become established.

Gives as an example an experience of the editorial staff of the "Record" in compiling the Cornelis Lambertszen Cool record for the series of family notes on the various marriages and consequent descendants of Aeltje Braconie (see the writer's article on "Aeltje Braconie-Boddie-Cool-Bredenbent family notes" (no. 2200)).

"The chapters which follow are not intended to constitute a comprehensive diplomatic history of the United States from 1914 to 1918. Originally composed to form a course of lectures, they are restricted to a study of the development of American policy as related to the European belligerents . . . It is essentially a study of the process by which Wilson, at first determined that the United States could and must stand apart from embattled Europe, was forced by the intolerable conditions of neutrality to bring America into the war and to promote a plan of international organization for peace." cf.
